

Sugarloaf Cove Interpretive Center Association Presents

Planting, Care and Identification of North Shore Trees

Agenda

Hosts: The Sugarloaf Cove Interpretive Center Association
Minnesota Department of Natural Resources
The Minnesota Forestry Association
The University of Minnesota Extension Service
Eric Hofstad, Forestry Consultant and Forest Plan Preparer

Participants will be able to:

- select tree species appropriate for the north shore ecosystem
- use a key to identify trees, shrubs and other plants
- plant trees
- describe options for protecting tree seedlings

9:00 - 9:15 Welcome and Introduction

1. Facilitators and Instructors
 - a. Andrew Slade, Executive Director
 - b. Mike Reichenbach Extension Educator
 - c. Rick Klevorn, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources
2. Participants (name, location, specific questions)
3. The Woodland Advisor Program
4. The north shore Forest Restoration Program

9:15 - 9:30 Ecological Classification Systems and species selection (Indoors) Rick Klevorn

9:30 - 10:30 Seed source control (Indoors) The importance of genetics Rick Klevorn

10:30 - 10:45 Break

10:45 - 11:45 Seed collection and stock selection (Indoors/outdoors) Rick Kelvorn

11:45 - 12:15 Tree Identification Basics (Indoors) Mike Reichenbach

Lost Forest Project
University of Minnesota Extension Service Woodland Advisor Program
June 4, 2005

12:15 - 12:45 Lunch

Round table discussion to talk about future class interests.

12:45 – 2:45 Tree planting practice, protection measures, and care (Outdoors)
Tree identification – field practice

2:45 – 3:00 Wrap-up and evaluation

Rick Klevorn and Mike Reichenbach

Lost Forest Project

University of Minnesota Extension Service Woodland Advisor Program

June 4, 2005